Advice to international passengers on limitations of liability

Passengers embarking upon a journey are advised that one or more of the provisions of the international treaties (The Convention for the Unification of Certain Rules Relating to International Carriage by Air, signed at Montreal, 28 May 1999 (the "Montreal Convention"); The Convention for the Unification of Certain Rules Relating to International Carriage by Air, signed at Warsaw, 12 October 1929 (the "Warsaw Convention"); the Warsaw Convention as amended at The Hague on 28 September 1955; the Warsaw Convention as amended at The Hague and by Additional Protocol No. 1, 2 or 4 of Montreal (1975); the Guadalajara Supplementary Convention (1961); and any other applicable protocols or conventions and their local enabling legislation (if any)), as well as this document, the GCC, tariff provisions and/or any applicable laws, may be applicable to your entire journey, including any portion entirely within the countries of departure and destination. The GCC, applicable treaty and/or law governs and may limit the liability of carriers to passengers for death or personal injury; destruction or loss of, or damage to, cabin and check-in baggage; and for delay of passengers and check-in baggage. Additional protection can usually be obtained by purchasing insurance from a private company. For further information please consult your contracting and operating carrier or insurance company representative.

Advice to international passengers on limitations of liability by the U.S. Department of Transportation

This is a 14 Code of Federal Regulations section 221.105(a) notice – Passengers embarking upon a journey involving an ultimate destination or a stop in a country other than the country of departure are advised that the provisions of an international treaty (the Warsaw Convention, the Montreal Convention, or other treaty), as well as a carrier's own contract of carriage or tariff provisions, may be applicable to their entire journey, including any portion entirely within the countries of departure and destination. The applicable treaty governs and may limit the liability of carriers to passengers for death or personal injury, destruction, or loss of, or damage to, baggage, and for delay of passengers and baggage. Additional protection can usually be obtained by purchasing insurance from a private company. Such insurance is not affected by any limitation of the carrier's liability under an international treaty.

Advice to international passengers on limitations of liability by European Community Regulation (EC)

Carriage and other services provided by the carrier are subject to conditions of carriage, which are hereby incorporated by reference. These conditions may be obtained from the issuing carrier. The itinerary/receipt constitutes the passenger ticket for the purposes of Article 3 of the Warsaw Convention, except where the carrier delivers to the passenger another document complying with the requirements of Article 3. Passengers on a journey involving an ultimate destination or a stop in a country other than the country of departure are advised that international treaties known as the Montreal Convention, or its predecessor, the Warsaw Convention, including its amendments (The Warsaw Convention System), may apply to the entire journey, including any portion thereof within a country. For such passengers, the applicable treaty, including special contracts of carriage embodied in any applicable tariffs, governs and may limit the liability of the carrier. These Conventions govern and may limit the liability of air carriers for death or bodily injury or loss of or damage to baggage, and for delay.
